BROWN TAKEN ON SUSPICION

High Living Without Work Caused
Belief He Had $180 Martin
Kelley Missed Dec. 18.

PECULIAR CASE RECALLED

Man Who Was Present When Money
Disappeared Found With $20
Bill on Person.

Circumstantial evidence and acts of the past month caused the arrest today of Omer Brown. Brown is charged in an affidavit filed in the circuit court with stealing $180 from Martin Kelley, a local blacksmith. He was arraigned in the court before Judge Sparks and entered a formal plea of not guilty and went to jail in default of $200 bond.

High living without any apparent work on the part of Brown is said to be the main reason why he is suspected of taking the money. It will be recalled that the money disappeared from the blacksmith shop on Dec. 18 last, after Kelley had exhibited his "role" and had given it to Roy (Splice) Morrison so that Morrison could make a "show" with the money.

Morrison returned the money to Kelley and a short time later Kelley handed the pocketbook containing the $180 in bills and about $400 in notes back to Morrison when something was said about betting. This was the last Kelley ever saw of the money. It completely disappeared. The shop was searched from one end to the other. Brown and Morrison were arrested at that time but the money was not found on them and they were released, as the state had no case.

Since that time the police have watched the men who were involved and who were at the shop when the transaction occurred. The police state that Brown has been spending his time in Connersville and spent money right and left, while he has not worked a single day. It was a mystery to them how he could spend so much money without working, and they continued to watch him.

About a week ago Brown appeared at a local fruit store and purchased some goods. In payment for the amount purchased he flashed a twenty dollar bill. The owner of the store, being unable to change it, went out to get the change, and in looking for change, went to the James H. Barrett restaurant. Mr. Barrett asked him where he obtained the bill and the owner of the fruit store told him Omer Brown had given it to him. Mr. Barrett immediately took the bill to Kelley and Kelley stated that the bill closely resembled one he had in the roll that disappeared.

Nothing was done at that time and Brown was not molested. He continued to spend money and made frequent trips to Connersville and St. Paul, according to police. The case will likely be taken up by the grand jury, which meets Monday.

TWO CASES ON ACCOUNTS

DUKE IS FINED $50 AND COSTS

Man Who Shot Frank Richardson
Admits Guilt on Assault and Battery Charge.

INTENT CLAUSE IS DROPPED

Richardson First Refuses to Answer
Whether he Wants Such Action Taken.

Walter Duke was fined $50 and costs this morning for assault and battery on Frank Richardson, colored. It will be remembered that Duke shot Richardson, after Richardson had offered to assist Mrs. Duke in getting him from the barn to the house. The intent to kill clause in the affidavit was dropped after considerable effort on the part of all involved.

Judge Sparks at one time stated that the case was continued and that the grand jury would meet Monday. He did this after Richardson would not consent to dismiss the intent part of the affidavit. He later changed his mind and told the court that he was willing that this part be nolle. Both Duke and Richardson told the court how the affair occurred.

Richardson, the injured party first told his version of the affair to the court and was followed by Duke stated that he had been drinking and when the negro appeared in the barn he thought he was there to rob him and shot not knowing who it was or why he was there. Richardson said he went there upon the request of Mrs. Duke.

He related how Mrs. Duke had called him as he was passing the horse, asking him to assist her in getting Walter to the house from the barn. Richardson stated she entered the barn first and that he followed her. They found Mr. Duke on the floor and she spoke to him he reached towards his right hip pocket. Richardson stated that Mrs. Duke screamed and ran from the building. Before Richardson could get out Duke shot him, the bullet entering the right thigh. Richardson told the court that Duke attempted to shoot the second time but that the cartridge failed to explode.

Judge Sparks asked him if he was willing that the intent part be dropped, but the question was never answered and Richardson seemed unwilling to do so. He said he would like to ask his attorney but Judge Sparks told him he was the one to decide on this question. The court was willing to dismiss the intent charge if it was satisfactory to the injured party and as Richardson was the injured person and did not seem inclined to consent the court announced that the case was continued and that the grand jury would meet Monday, intimating that the case would be taken up at that time if it was not settled this morning.

SAYS WATSON IS AS G.O.P. TIMBER

National Magazine. Published at Boston, Pays High Tribute to
Rushville Man's Ability

POSSESSES QUALIFICATIONS

Writer Says His Conscientious Performance of Public Acts Appeal
to Solid Citizens.

The National magazine, published at Boston, sees in James E. Watson a Republican presidential possibility and pays high tribute to his ability in an article recently published. The magazine says his conscientious performance of public duties appeal strongly to a large number of the solid citizens of a large section of the country. The magazine says in regard to Mr. Watson:

In taking a survey of the Presidential possibilities, we must not overlook the fact that Indiana is very proud of the distinguished services rendered in Congress by James E. Watson; and there is a feeling that he possesses Presidential qualifications of the highest order. We find there is a very widespread sentiment favoring his nomination, not only in Indiana, but throughout the West and Southwest. Watson is a man of scholarly attainments, broad legislative experience, having served several terms in Congress, and a very uncommon common-sense permeates all his public speeches and acts. As an orator he is pre-eminent. He appeals very strongly to the common people because of his broad sympathies and his safe leadership as exhibited throughout his entire public career. The same forces that defeated Myron T. Herrick for second term as Governor of Ohio, viz., the intemperance of the temperance movement, defeated Watson in his race for Governor of Indiana. Keep your eye on Watson and do not overlook the fact that his stalwart Republicanism, his unwavering loyalty to its principles, and the conscientious performance of all his public acts appeal strongly to large numbers of the solid citizens of a large section of the country.

Already there are echoes beyond the boundaries of his native state as far south as Oklahoma that Hon. James E. Watson is the man of the hour. The picture of the former young congressman on the platform at the National Republican Convention in 1912 still remains in the minds of many Republicans. He was there to meet the challenge of Governor Hadley of Missouri, and it was a picturesque forensic debate. "Jim" Watson was an aggressive but popular whip on the Republican side in Congress. He is a forceful speaker and a good campaigner. Having been prominently identified with civic society work he has many friends all over the country, and has been especially active in the high councils of the K. of P. A level-headed, aggressive type of a tried and true young Republican leader is the way his legion of admirers speak of Jim Watson of Indiana.

If he secures the Hoosier delegation there will be some lively whoopers to join with Watson at the 1916 convention, and his friends are hoping to have him properly groomed as the expectant dark horse on which all factions and phases of Republicans can unite and launch a campaign with the fire and fervor characteristic of Watson.

$5,600 BLAZE AT CHARLOTTESVILLE

Fire Destroys W. R. McGraw's Two-
Story Brick Building and W.
S. Lane's Merchandise Stock.

FRAME STRUCTURE BURNS TOO

A destructive fire occurred at Charlottesville Thursday night, destroying W. R. McGraw's two-story brick building and the entire stock of general merchandise of W. S. Lane, tenant. The aggregate loss to the owner of the building and the store proprietor was $5,600.

The fire was discovered about 10:30 o'clock and had made great headway. It is thought to have originated from a stove explosion, caused by an accumulation of gas when the store was closed up. A frame building adjoining the brick was also consumed. It also belonged to Mr. McGraw. Mr. Lane, who had been in business there for seventeen years, had a large stock of general merchandise, which invoiced January 1st at $4,400. He carried $3,500 worth of insurance. Mr. McGraw carried $1,200 insurance on the building.

Thirty-six years ago a building burned on this same corner, starting from the drug store of W. H. H. Rock, adjoining.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

(By United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 6.—Because of the discovery of the foot and mouth disease in Chicago, Indianapolis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Columbus, O., Buffalo, Jersey City and Pittsburg, federal inspectors were instructed by telegraph today by the agricultural department to close all these yards for disinfection after the animals now in transit have been disposed of.

Those animals will be allowed to go to their destination provided they have shown no symptoms of the disease and have not been handled in pens and provided also that their destination is within quarantined areas and that they were shipped for immediate slaughter.

The question of opening the closed yards will be determined later.

—The Misses Ethel Roller and Blanche Fox of Manilla will go to Indianapolis Sunday and will remain over for the millinery openings next week.

SICK ONE WEEK WITH PNEUMONIA

Mrs. William F. Matney, Native of
Noble Township, Expires at
Home in Connersville.

MARRIED AT NEW SALEM, 1871

Three Sons and Husband of Fayette
County and Many Relatives in
This County Survive.

Mrs. William Frank Matney, a native of Noble township, who had many relatives in this county, is dead at her home in Connersville after an illness with pneumonia of only a week's duration. Her death was a deep shock to her many relatives and friends because it was not generally known that her condition was serious, much less critical.

Mrs. Matney died Thursday night. She was stricken with double pneumonia a week ago last Thursday. She seemed to be improving Tuesday and Wednesday, but Thursday there was a change for the worse. Mrs. Matney was sixty-three years of age.

Mrs. Nannie Overleese, wife of S. T. Overleese of Milroy, who was spending the winter in Florida, is now on her way to Connersville for the funeral of Mrs. Matney, who was her sister, and it is expected she will arrive by Sunday so that the funeral may be held Monday morning at ten o'clock. Burial will take place in the new Dale cemetery just east of Connersville.

Mrs. Matney was born in Noble township, near New Salem. Rohanna Williams was her maiden name. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams. She was born June the twenty-fifth, 1851, and was united in marriage with W. F. Matney at New Salem, September 13, 1871. Three sons were born and all survive. They are William T., John E., and Earl Matney, all of Fayette county.

Five sisters, Mrs. Almeda Duke, of near Knightstown, Mrs. Nannie Overleese, of Milroy, Mrs. Lizzie J. Matney and Mrs. Erma Morris, of the same vicinity and Mrs. Fannie Morris, of Orange, survive.

Mrs. Matney was a life-long member of the Flatrock Christian church. She was a devout Christian and fidelity to her religion was one of the great facts of her life. Her home was a model of happiness. She was a gentle mother and wife and her removal leaves a great gap in the lives of the husband and the sons. Mrs. Matney was charitable almost to a fault. During her long residence here she had made friends past counting.

War Did Not Shake Their Market

▲ A manufacturer of a well known household product widely and splendidly advertised, reports that his business has actually increased during the so-called "war depression."

He attributes the fact to more discriminating buying.

He believes the public, educated to a belief in the quality of his product, turned to it in dull times.

In this case advertising forged a particular brand ahead at a time when others were going back.

The advertising had established the idea of character in the mind of the public, and in times of stress that character was a veritable gold mine of assets.

LAST OF HARMONY CLASS EXPIRES

Mrs. Phoebe Cotton, Whose Funeral Will be Held Monday Morning, Had That Distinction.

SHE RESIDED NEAR MANILLA

She is Survived by Five Children, One of Whom is Frank Cotton, Well Known Here.

The funeral of Mrs. Phoebe Cotton, who died Thursday midnight at her home near Manilla, will be held at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning at the residence, with the Rev. J. E. Sargent of Indianapolis in charge. Mrs. Cotton was the last member of the famous old Missouri Harmony class, of Morristown, an organization which was founded many years ago, continued for a long time and is remembered now only by the annual reunion which is held by the ancestors of its members each year in Morristown.

Mrs. Cotton was the mother of Frank Cotton, who formerly lived in Manilla, but went, together with his wife, after the death of her husband to live with her. Mr. Cotton is well known here in Rushville, having married a daughter of Mrs. Sarah Casady and a sister of E. R. and Knowles Casady.

Mrs. Cotton enjoyed a very wide acquaintance, cultivated during her many years of residence near Manilla. Since her marriage to Mr. Cotton, more than three score years ago, she had lived at the home where her death occurred. She was a member of the Manilla Methodist church, the services of which she attended regularly until prevented by declining health.

Mrs. Phoebe (nee Johnston,) widow of the late Thomas Cotton, was the oldest resident of Union township, Shelby county, being eighty-five years, two months and two days old at the time of her death. She was a daughter of Jonathan and Anna Johnston, prominent early pioneers of this county, and was born on December 2, 1829, near Morristown, and her entire life was spent in this county. She was married to Mr. Cotton on October 18, 1849, and to their union ten children were born. Five survive. They are Mrs. Joseph Haymond, of Waldron; C. C. Cotton, of Shelby county, Mrs. A. J. Hungerford, of Pittsburg, Miss Josephine Cotton, of Greensburg, and Frank Cotton, at home. She also leaves eight grand children and ten great grand children. Her husband preceded her to the great beyond thirteen years ago.

Mrs. Cotton's death was due to a complication of diseases incident to old age. She has been ill since last Sunday. All of her children were at her bedside during her last illness.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

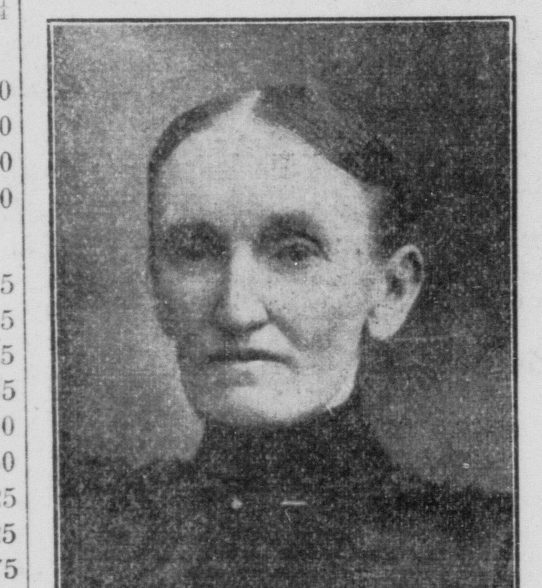

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and abundant.

Obituary.

Mrs. Hannah Matilda Oldham

Mrs. Hannah Matilda Oldham daughter of Lewis J. and Mary Ann Newhouse, was born June 11, 1850, and departed this life Friday, January 22, 1915, at the age of 64 years, 6 months, and 11 days.

The subject of this sketch, Miss Hannah M. Newhouse, was married to Elijah D. Oldham, March 4, 1869. One daughter, Mrs. Lydia E. Sample, was born to this union August 13, 1870. The husband and father died August 16, 1907.

Soon after her husband's death, Mrs. Oldham moved to Rushville, where she continued to live except the winters she spent in the southwest in search of health.

Mrs. Oldham lived a conscientious christian life. All through her childhood, womanhood and maturer years, she lived the life of a christian. In Dec. 1908, she joined the Primitive Baptist church in Rushville, and was a faithful member of that church until her death.

Six years ago, her delicate health caused her to seek a warmer climate in which to spend her winters. Each year found her strength gradually failing her until the end came in Phoenix, Arizona.

This noble woman leaves a daughter and her husband, two grand children, six brothers and one sister, to mourn her departure. The home circle, the church, and the whole community will miss the guiding counsel and cheerful words of Mrs. Oldham.

A large assembly of friends and relatives gathered at her late home in Rushville, on the occasion of her funeral, bearing faithful floral tokens thus giving expression to the high esteem in which she was held by those who knew her. After a funeral discourse by her former pastor, Eld. John R. Daily, of Indianapolis, her mortal remains were interred beside that of her husband in the Rushville cemetery to await her Master's call. 282t1

Ralph Hackleman is the first here to announce he is a candidate in the Indianapolis Star contest for a trip to the Panama exposition. He will make a canvass and solicit the aid of all. 283t1

(By United Press.)

At Grand Headquarters, King of Belgium, inside Belgian frontier, Feb. 6.—Doggedly determined never to yield the remainder of his little kingdom to the Germans King Albert is here on the battle line directing the movement of the reorganized Belgian forces along the Yser. It was stated by one of the Belgian officers he would never abandon Belgian soil even if attacked by the Germans.

"He would enter the trenches inside the frontier of his kingdom and meet his end with a gun at his shoulder," one officer told me. And he added, "The whole Belgian army is saturated with the same spirit."

This is not the same army that fell back crushed under the weight of the kaiser's great human machine. The Belgians have been completely reorganized and newly quipped from top to boot. They have had the rest which they needed."

EDUCATION OF A BOY DISCUSSED

Parent-Teachers Association Hears Talks of Many Phases of Subject Friday Afternoon.

VALUE OF LEADERS SHOWN

The Parent-teachers association held a most interesting session yesterday afternoon when "The Education of a Boy" was the subject for discussion. The Rev. C. M. Yocum "Pre-school Development." He said that the parents should do all in their power to give the boy a strong body ready for spiritual development. Miss Margaret Casady read a paper by Virgil Binford on the subject, "Physical Education," in which the value of devoting this phase of the boy's life was shown.

"Intellectual Education" was the subject of a talk by Dr. V. W. Tevis. He declared that the boy should be taught to have ideals and that he should prepare for some avocation in life. Among the question on boys, Mrs. Warder Wyatt discussed the feasibility of allowing boys to work when they attend school and whether or not they should be allowed spending money. Superintendent J. H. Scholl talked about boys' societies. He extolled the work of the Boy Scouts and said that all boys' organizations should have a competent leader or teacher.

The court at that time ordered Eberhardt to make his home elsewhere and Eberhardt deeded the property over to his wife.

Why Woman Should Vote

Because she is the mother of man, and without her man would cease to exist.

Because she is the intellectual equal and the moral superior of man.

Because woman transmits her intelligence to her offspring, and if she has the power to do this she is the equal intelligence with her offspring, for none of us may give that which we do not possess.

Because if she is the mental equal of that male offspring she has an equal right to a voice in the shaping of the laws which shall govern her, as well as him.

Because she is qualified by every law of nature to exercise the right of franchise.

Because the instinct of woman leads always to the upbuilding of the human race.

Because she abhors the trickery and deceit and grafting rampant in modern political parties.

Because that abhorrence would lead her to the cleansing of those parties and the purification of the ballot.

Because she would labor to place men in public office who would govern for the people and not for self.

Because she is a believer in the parity of all homes, and because of this belief she is a safe person to say who shall govern a community made up of many homes.

Because her ideals of right and justice are superior to those of man.

Because man owes his perspective to the care and training of woman in his infancy, though many forsake her gentle ways in the later years of life.

Because man owes to woman a debt which it is not within his power ever to repay.

Because her entrance into the political arena would mean a better state, a greater country, a closer communion with the laws of God and man.

Because she is the essence of purity, the light of the home, and the star which beckons man on to greater and nobler deeds.

Because she is woman, the mother of man.

Bryan's Visit

William Jennings Bryan, the man who has been issuing prophetic sayings all these years, none of which ever came true, comes to Indiana to tell us how we should run our state—the same William Jennings Bryan who clings to the party that had advocated state's rights since its birth and is still using the policy to dodge behind when questions of great importance arise.

Secretary Bryan comes to Indiana to tell Hoosier Democracy that it should keep his platform pledge and enact a state-wide, direct primary law.

Let's see, what kind of a teacher is William Jennings Bryan, anyway? Is he not the same William Jennings Bryan who is credited with being responsible for the nomination of Woodrow Wilson at the Baltimore convention? He is. Is not the Woodrow Wilson he made the candidate of the Democratic party the same Woodrow Wilson, who, when he was elected president, violated the platform pledge of his party by not enacting legislation which would allow free Panama tolls for the coastwise ships? He is. Is he not the same Woodrow Wilson who is now being groomed as the next candidate for the presidency on the Democratic ticket which is in direct violation of one plank of the Democratic platform adopted at Baltimore? He is.

As a teacher Secretary Bryan falls far below the mark. He has been discredited too often. Indiana Democracy is not likely to pay any attention to him.

A few days ago dispatches conveyed the information that probably the largest mail order house in Chicago had just declared a stock dividend of fifty percent or $20,000,000 to the holders of the $40,000,000 common stock. We are led to wonder how many dollars of that juicy fifty percent came from Rush county? And yet the merchant who is your neighbor too often accused by you of making too high a rate on his investment. How long, we wonder, will sensible persons continue to be hoodwinked by the alluring and glaring catalogues of the cheating mail order houses?

Funny how touchy some people are! A fellow came into our office recently and said his doctor told him ten years ago that if he did not stop smoking at once he would become feeble minded. And when we asked why he didn't stop, he just stalked out and slammed the door.

Over in Europe they build a neat little house in the top of a tree for observation purposes, and then along comes an enemy's shell and whisks house and occupant off to glory.

A self appointed committee has just announced the names of the seven best dressed women in Chicago. Why not trot out the seven poorest dressed and note the contrast?

Every one of the warring nations accuses this country of favoring the other side. And poor old Uncle Sam is literally busting his galls in a frantic effort to straddle the fence.

After we have spent all of our spare coin in the relief of suffering abroad, it will be in order for Europe to pass the hat for the starving unfortunates in our own midst.

There is a fellow around here who never reads his home paper, and people often wonder at his lack of knowledge concerning local affairs. We don't.

General "Jesus" Carranza has been executed in Mexico. There is some consolation in following in the footsteps of an illustrious predecessor.

United Press Record For Year Just Closed Is A Remarkable One

That the record of the United Press Associations, of which the Daily Republican is a member, is a remarkable one, is proved by the following review of the United Press given in the Fourth Estate's news review of the year 1914.

"The year was a record-breaker in news achievements for the United Press as well as in increased business. Looking back over the wonderful news year stand out among the world beats scored by this organization. The most recent of these was the interview with the German crown prince by Karl H. Von Wiegand, United Press correspondent, generally conceded to be the high water mark of enterprise from the newspaper point of view in the great world war. Next was the eight-hour beat scored by Henry Wood, United Press manager at Rome, on the death of Pope Pius by use of the simple code message prepared long in advance. The first was the beat accomplished by William G. Shepherd, in announcing to the American public and to the navy department itself, the landing of American marines on Mexican soil at Vera Cruz, full three hours before the news reached this country through any other channel.

"There have been so many other big news features that it is difficult to arrange them in order or to classify them. One of the highest compliments paid the United Press during the year was the selection of William Philip Simms, United Press manager at Paris, to represent America at the front, when only one correspondent from each of eight neutral nations was permitted to go. Up to this time Simms is the only American correspondent who has been officially permitted to visit the fighting lines in France.

"While all American newspaper men are familiar with the accomplishments of the United Press, it may be interesting to note that the U. P. stuff on the war has been printed almost as widely in England as in the United States. Not only through the clients served by the United Press in London and in the provinces, but through stories taken from the New York papers and cabled back to London, the U. P. correspondents have been given great prominence in the British press. Von Wiegand, Shepherd, Simms and Wood are known almost as well to newspaper readers in London as they are to American readers."

What Our Neighbors Are Talking AboutPsychological Business.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.) It has been asserted by a distinguished public official residing in the White House at Washington, that business conditions in the United States are psychological, a mere state of mind, and this utterance from the dais is repeated and reiterated by lesser and subservient officials until people of a certain temperament reach that degree of hypnosis which compels belief. Such persons cannot be awakened from the cataleptic state until the master hand is waved before their eyes, and the master hand at present is other wise busily engaged.

But the majority of Americans, happily, are not so easily influenced by the spell of words, and these will find nutriment for thought in a statement, prepared by one of the country's largest and most reliable commercial agencies, showing the number of failures occurring in the twelve months ending October 31, 1914, in the same period of 1912-13, and in the preceding calendar years back to 1873. This shows the number of failures in the period first mentioned, November 1, 1913, to October 31, 1914, to have been 17,418 with liabilities totaling $357,345,645. In the next preceding twelve months there were 15,632 failures with liabilities of $250,802,536, a total for the two years of 33,050 failures and $608,148,181 liabilities. In the entire history of the country there has been nothing to equal this in commercial destructiveness. Previous to this the high record of disasters was made in the cataclysmic year of 1893 when there were 15,242 failures with liabilities of $346,779,889. The "panic" of 1907 resulted in failures in 1908 numbering 15,690, with the comparatively small liabilities of $222,315,684.

It must be observed that the figures for 1914 do not include the final months of November and December, and that they cover but 3 months of the war period and those the first three, in which the effects of the war upon American business conditions could not yet have become serious to the point of disaster. It is quite plain that this unprecedented record of commercial destructiveness is entirely due to the acts and policies of the Wilson administration. In the face of these facts "psychology" is a fearsome word.

Central Delivery System

It is with pleasure that we, the undersigned merchants announce to our customers that we have contracted with the Benson Delivery Co., to establish a central delivery station in this city. We did this only after a thorough investigation in other cities where such systems are established. Wherever they are in operation, central delivery systems are meeting the approval of both merchants and patrons.

Central Delivery Starts Mon. February 15What It Does....

CENTRAL DELIVERY enables the merchant to organize his working force and confine all his attention within the store, without worry about getting orders out on time, for the delivery is in charge of a responsible man, who will see that goods go out on schedule time. CENTRAL DELIVERY in no way prevents competition, as every merchant fixes his own prices.

CENTRAL DELIVERY will benefit customers, as they can place their orders and know just at what hour to expect the delivery wagon, by referring to their schedule.

With co-operation between merchants and customers, the new system will be a pleasure and a satisfaction to all concerned and we feel that we have solved a problem, that in the past, has required too much of the merchant's time that should have been devoted to matters within the store.

The new Central Station, under the management of E. E. Benson, is located at Morgan and Water streets in a new sanitary building, built especially for this purpose, and you are invited there at any time to see the careful handling of orders.

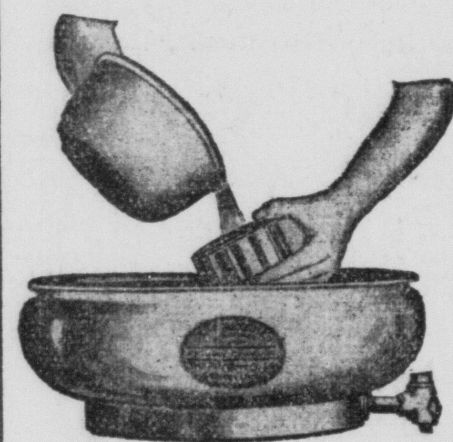

For an eleven o'clock dinner or merchandise wanted early, place your order in time for the eight o'clock delivery.

With your co-operation in the new system, we expect Rushville to have the best delivery service that has ever been given.

These merchants will deliver your goods on time:—

A. L. Aldridge Grocery
Charley Berry Grocery

COMPLICATED IS COMING RACE

American League is Hard to Dope Out Since There Has Been Several Changes in Managers

RED SOX TO BE CONSIDERED

Mack's Pitching Staff is Badly Bent and His Infield is Minus Services of Collins

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Feb. 6.—Fans around Belligerent Ban Johnson's loop with leanings toward dishing out prospective winners are going to have one tough job this season unless all the signs are pointing wrong. The usual pre-season dope is pointing to a rather complicated race with several teams, if they run true to form, in the race from April until October, er.

Two new managers with greatly strengthened aggregations have to be considered. These are the Chicago White Sox with Clarence Henry Rowland at the helm, and the rejuvenated Yankees with Wild Bill Donovan wielding the baton. And with Eddie Collins cavorting around second base for the Sox and one of the best hurling corps in the league, those same Sox begin to stack up pretty large in the American race.

There are those, and there are many of them, who think Connie Mack has "shot his wad" that the elongated tactician will not be able to pull his disabled machine home in front. His pitching staff is badly bent with the absence of Bender and Frank and his infield cannot boast that it is of the $100,000 variety now that with Eddie Collins is among the missing.

Then the Boston Red Sox are to be considered. Boston, it will be remembered made a great spurt towards the close of last season and all but overtook the flying Mackmen. And they're going right back into the race with the same players and a lot of additional reserve strength.

Lastly, but not least, there are the Yanks. They seem to have emerged from an epidemic of managers and directors-control and if Wild Bill William puts the pep into his playing season that he has exhibited since signing his contract, the Highlanders must be considered in the race.

Hughey Jennings, too, is known to have pennant aspirations and is bold enough to come forth with the announcement that the flag is going to Detroit.

The baseball meeting to be held Sunday afternoon in the assembly room of the court house at which time it is expected to form a stock company to operate the club here the coming summer, promises to be well attended. The meeting will be held at two o'clock. Many fans tending the meeting and it is hoped to form the organization and have something definite to work on.

The plan will be fully explained to all who attend and also plans for the season will be discussed. Manager Davidson, of last year's team is expected in the city tonight and will attend the meeting tomorrow. It was the original intentions of getting seventy-five stock holders but from present indications the one hundred mark will be reached.

REPUBLICANS BUSY ALL OVER INDIANA

Council No. 1 of the Commercial Travelers League of Indiana will be organized at Terre Haute Friday night—McKinley's birthday. There are no more enthusiastic and persistent evangelists of Republicanism in Indiana than the traveling men, and they are preparing to perfect a close organization over the state to the end that they can further advance the interest of the Republican party which is but another way of saying that they are anxious to advance their own interests. It is the plan to organize a branch of the Commercial Travelers League of Indiana in every city that has a traveling men's post. This work is to be done during the "off year" so that everything will be properly "set" for the Republican traveling men when the barrier drops for the next campaign.

Former Governor Richard Yates, of Illinois, will deliver his address on Lincoln before the Cass County Republican Club at Logansport on Feb. 12. This club, which was organized since the recent election, is a very vigorous organization. Not meeting night passes that some former active Progressive leader does not identify himself with the club. The chairman of the Cass county Progressive Committee during the 1914 campaign was one of the speakers of a recent meeting of the Republican club.

The newly organized Lawrence county Republican club will open headquarters in Bedford next Friday night—McKinley's birthday. The membership of this club is increasing at a lively rate. Headquarters will be open each day until after the next election.

Active Republican clubs have been organized in the fifth and tenth wards of the city of Hammond.

Republican members of the state legislature are planning to attend a big possum feed at Fortville on the night of Feb. 4. As an evidence of the enthusiasm that exists among Republicans it might be cited that the Republicans of this small town in a strong Democratic county are expecting to entertain 600 voters.

The Harrison Club of Gary is planning to celebrate Lincoln's birthday with a "dollar dinner." Here is a club that has sprung up since the recent election that is putting up a pretty stiff pace for similar organization to follow. The membership list is growing daily.

ANOTHER WIN ADDED TO LIST

Rushville Took Fast Game From Hope Team Last Night by Score of 35 to 20.

SHOWED BETTER TEAM WORK

Team Work of Locals Was Feature, Visitors Being Unable to Solve The Attack.

The Rushville high school added another victory to its already long string by defeating the Hope high school team last night 35 to 20. The game was fast and rough and the pace set by the locals was too fast for Hope. The team work of the Rushville team was especially good and the team showed improved form in hitting the basket.

The one big fault with the Hope team was that it insisted in taking long shots at the basket even after they had failed time and time again. The long shot won't do on the local floor and every one that is made is either luck or an accident. But Rushville should worry over Hope's long shots as the visitors were outplayed from start to finish.

The Rushville defense was impregnable and the Hope team came near failing to register a field goal in the last half as none was made until along towards the close. Both teams played very hard and many personal fouls resulted mainly from being over anxious. Tittsworth, Stoops and Martin led in the goal getting and the team work of this trio was exceptionally good. Winslow and Brecheisen deserve much credit for their defensive work as play after play was broken up and the visitor's team work shot to pieces.

The game started out very fast and Hope was the first to score. Templeton registering a goal from foul. Rushville gradually found itself and then proceeded to run up the score. The pace was too fast at the start to last very long and before the end of the first half both teams were pretty well played out and the game had slowed down considerably. The first half ended 19 to 12 in favor of Rushville.

Hope seemed unable to solve the system of play of the Rushville team and time after time the machine like work of Martin to Tittsworth to Stoops resulted in apparently easy goals. Towards the end of the game Hope was thrown on the defensive and the game became very rough.

In the curtain raiser the Reds defeated the Blacks 3 to 0. The girl teams played good ball and the Reds made all their points in the first half.

The line up and summary follow:
Rushville Hope
Tittsworth Templeton
Stoops Forward Kemp
Martin Forward Spotts
Winslow Center Girtan
Brecheisen Guard Powell
Field goals—Tittsworth, 7; Stoops, 5; Martin, 4; Templeton, 4; Kemp, 2; Spotts, 1. Foul goals—Stoops, 1; Martin, 2; Kemp, 5; Spotts, 1. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee, Henley, of Purdue.

COURT HOUSE DARK

With the exception of one or two offices, the court house was as dark as pitch yesterday afternoon when the clouds were hanging low. There were no lights in the corridors and visitors in the court house were very liable to stumble over a cuspidor any time. It was explained that Joe Dickman, the custodian, was trying to make a record for economy since the city placed an electric meter in the court house. Some county officials, however, paid no attention to the economy idea and burned the electricity anyway when they needed it.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Public Sale..

To be a success must be well advertised. The more people who know of a sale the larger the crowd, resulting in more competitive bidding, higher prices for the stuff and more dollars in the holder's pocket. The Daily Republican goes into every town, community and neighborhood in Rush County, and has more paid subscribers than all the rest of the Rushville papers combined. Right now everybody is looking for and reading sale notices. They want to buy. The Republican's "Public Sales" advertisements tell them who is having a sale, when and where. Sale bills will always be used but their number is decreasing. Newspaper advertising is found to reach more people and when they are in a mood to read, and is getting more popular all the time. When a man holds a sale he expects to spend a few dollars in advertising it, but he wants results. Come in; we can "deliver the goods." "Red Head" sale bills and display spaces at a reasonable rate, and we give you prompt service.

TWO AMERICAN NURSES KILLED

Executed as Spies by English as if
Was Shown They Were Sympathizers of Germany.

ARE NOW WATCHED CLOSELY

Latest War Poster Advertises an Excursion to Germany Starting in the Spring

(By United Press.)

London, Jan. 20. (By Mail to New York)—That two nurses of American nationality but of German sympathies, serving with the British army in France, has been detected acting as spies and "effectually dealt with" is the assertion made today by the Nursing Mirror.

"There have been persistent rumors of female spies masquerading as nurses both abroad and at home," says the journal, "but we have been slow to believe them. Unfortunately, evidence of a convincing character has been placed before us.

"Lord Kitchener, it appears, was afraid that the reports were not groundless, and earlier in the war, when he was at Southampton he discovered that there was a leakage of news going on, and made inquiries, with the result that four women were found to be the culprits.

"Two of these were nurses, and they were at once requested to go inland, not because they were suspected of wilfully giving information to the enemy, but because they had been lacking in discretion.

"On the other side of the Channel matters have been more serious. Two nurses were proved to have acted as spies.

They were, of course, effectually dealt with, and it is good to know that they were not of English nationality, but Americans with German sympathies.

"Still, the incident proves the urgent importance of no nurses or women being allowed to enter homes of foreign hospitals whose attendants have not been subjected to the most careful investigation by a responsible official."

"What's it like in the trenches?" said a wounded non-commissioned officer, recovering in a London hospital. "It's awful—up to the knees in mud and muffers!"

The latest recruiting poster circulated in Cornwall reads: "The country is arranging for an excursion to Germany in the spring. All hotel expenses and railway fares paid. Good shooting and hunting. Ages nineteen to thirty-eight. Rifles and ammunition free. Cheap trips up the Rhine. Apply at once, as there is only a limited number (1,000,000) required."

ISSUES WARNING TO CINCINNATI

FREIGHT TERMINALS NEEDED

He Points Out That Indianapolis Made Mistake—Extension to be Made From Here

Charles L. Henry, president of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company, was in Cincinnati one day recently discussing the proposed entrance of the traction into that city by way of an extension from this city, according to the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer:

A warning to provide adequate freight facilities as well as passenger terminals in the proposed interurban entrance was issued yesterday by C. L. Henry, Indiana traction magnate, who proposes to build a connection into Cincinnati for his Indiana system. Mr. Henry was at the Chamber of Commerce, coming here to personally inquire into the status of the interurban entrance project.

Indianapolis made the mistake of thinking of interurbans as primary passenger lines, and as a result their freight service for interurbans are inadequate and present a big problem. Freight is a big factor in up to date interurban business, and especial care should be taken to build large and well equipped freight terminals.

Mr. Henry declared that his company would build into Cincinnati as soon as the plans for the interurban entrance are settled. He estimated that his line would be in operation 18 months after work was commenced. His company has acquired control of the Cincinnati and Westwood road, and has an ordinance now pending in Council to give it a right of way from the present terminal across to the canal where it would connect with the loop. The connection will be made with the line from Indianapolis to Rushville through Harrison.

President Henry further states that money will be plentiful within the next few months and that there will be no difficulty in financing the road.

Other Legislatures

Oregonian legislators who looked with favor on an anti-lobby bill weren't game to make it apply to this session. They left off the emergency clause that was insisted on here by Governor Ralston. The bill passed the house and favorable action is expected in the senate.

Students at Wisconsin university who want to help governor Madison are aimed at in bills introduced in the Wisconsin legislature. In that city they have been having rumpuses similar to those at Indiana college towns in past years.

Not satisfied with being able to adopt the commission government plan, Missouri cities are backing a bill allowing the "City Manager" plan, such as Dayton has. The Indiana legislature is considering a bill giving Indiana cities the option whether to adopt the commission or commission-in-manager plan. There will be a public hearing on this bill Monday night.

Certain Californians are trying to have the legislature adopt two constitutional amendments allowing the study of the bible in public schools. Having experimented as Indiana did with the cigarette law, Washington, is thinking of repealing. It is declared a "dead letter".

On the eve of a liquor fight Indiana is interested in Alabama's experience. Alabama's legislature voted the state dry. The Governor vetoed the measure and asked a referendum. The legislature immediately passed the dry bill again over the Governor's veto.

Webster says nepotism is "undue attachment to relations; favoritism shown to members of one's family." Governor Carlson of Colorado has announced that his wife has been appointed by him "assistant governor" to serve during his entire administration. She will work as many hours as he does and will look after legislation pertaining to women and children.

The Alabama legislature probably will adjourn about Friday after having worked only seventeen days. The idea is to have a "split session" so that during the "recess" of five months the members can digest some of the bulky reform measures now introduced and sound out their constituents. Incidentally the committee members each would receive $4 a day but there are only three "recess committees."

Wisconsin country newspapers are tiring of a little stunt that has in years past netted each of them a neat sum and has cost the state about $40000. Each year received $50 for printing and circulating in supplement form the enacted laws of the session. It has been an expensive proposition and a bill has been introduced calling for printing by the state and distribution of the pamphlets to all who ask for them.

The Arkansas senate has put it up to the house. Monday it passed a bill for state-wide prohibition and another giving the people a chance to vote for and against woman suffrage.

City Decides That it Talks Too

THEY READ PAPERS CLOSELY

(By United Press.)

Gary, Ind., Feb. 6.—Gary's greatest trouble is that it talks too much.

That statement in a Gary Tribune editorial seems to have struck home. The proverbial clam will have nothing on Gary if the movement started continues to gain headway. Gary's remarkable growth was caused largely by self advertising, but the time to blow a horn has passed, according to local people.

"Hammond and East Chicago brag that they watch the Gary newspapers for news of 'coming' new industries, take the tip, get after the new project and land it" stated the editorial.

The article continued to "knock" enterprising newspaper correspondents who are anxious to sell stories of Gary souphouses ad th like.

Is Quite The Thing To Name Colors Fabrics And Models In War Times
 BY MARGARET MASON
 (Written for United Press.)

There's a new cloth called Tipperary It will be quite the go In a sport coat for little Mary Or the swellest girl you know Goodbye to tweed and homespun Goodbye for fair There's a new cloth called Tipperary And it's smart to wear.

New York, Feb. 5.—Everybody is singing the praises of a new fabric for sport coats and suits called Tipperary cloth. Everybody also who is anybody when it comes to the clothes line of distinction is preparing to make herself ship-shape for Spring in a coat of "dreadnaught grey."

The answer is that it is quite the thing to name new colors, new fabrics, and new models this year by some name closely allied to the Allies or at least some phase of the war.

"Triple Entente" is the striking title for one new model and "Albert" is a fetching tribute to the Belgian king, in old blue velvet striped chiffon over an old gold slip. Co-sack and Russian flaring skirts and coats still prevail and also the trig little khaki Tommy Atkins suit but it's sand colored "chicness" is becoming almost as legion as the sands of the desert.

It seems that the heads of the fair ones more than their hearts are pro-German for the helmet effects in chapeaux are still to the fore and many are the straw ones leading the fashionable sortie of an onrushing spring bonnet.

Russian peasant dresses have proved the inspiration for an elaborate evening gown shown by Louise. It is developed in sage green corded silk and has the tight fitting peasant bodice cut out with a square decollete and laced up the sides under the arms with gold cord. The skirt is full and has the semblance of an apron worked out in heavy gold embroidery.

Military effects have also invaded the racks of the evening gowns and a saucy little model of midnight blue chiffon has its full skirt braided in gold around the deep hem and up the front and the tight bodice has gold cord draped across the front and up over the shoulders in lieu of more substantial sleeves.

Indeed all the gold braid and brass buttons and gold fringes that has been cast aside in modern warfare in favor of the inconspicuous khaki attire, seems to have been snatched up by the dressmakers and designers and turned to shining account on the frocks and furbelows of the ladies. Fringe in particular, gold or silver, is very smart edging ruffles and even the extreme edges of the full skirts themselves. Military sashes fringed with gold are a dashing touch to many an afternoon frock. One cadet blue gabardine model with gold braid frogs up the front actually had sprouted gold fringed epaulets. It looks as if you needn't be surprised soon to discover sabres and rifles as part of milady's vanity kit.

Since Paris put a ban on all hectic hues, violet and grey are the two favored shades. The grey of the mourning dove and the sadness of velvet so akin to the sombre black now perform worn by almost all the charming women of the French capital.

All tones of the violet are good, running the gaunt from deepest mauve and dove grey deep into slate and gunmetal with unvaried degrees of smartness, save that the newest grey dubbed dreadnaught is perhaps just the least more popular for the moment. It is all that its name implies, being the exact color of a battle ship.

Alas, however, the war is not content to flaunt its strong influence on our fashions alone, it has reached right up into our faces and most disastrous are bound to be the results. The whole complexion of things threatens to be changed and many are the feminine countenances that will show the battle scarred ravages of war. What haven't you heard?—there is a war tax now on powder (face of course) cold cream lotions of all beautifying sorts rouge be it liquid grease or dry, and beauty spots! Oh woe are we! Isn't it just like the stupid men who make the laws to call it an internal revenue tax when anyone can see on the very face of things it most vitally affects externals?

chair, a chiffonier, bed desk, table and side chair.

Red tape has been done away with and any working girl can become a resident. Miss Margaret Shearer, a recent graduate of Bryn Mawr will be in charge of Varlek house.

All this for four dollars a week brought a rush of applicants when the home was opened.

An anonymous benefactor has established the Varlek House, a new boarding house for girls, on new and unfettered lines, and it was opened this week at 11 Dominick street.

The house is a six-story building fireproof and new, and has rooms for eighty girls, a sleeping porch, and a parlor for taffy pulls, way up on the roof.

The price of room and board, including luncheon, is from $4 to $4.75 a week. There is a sewing room with electrical connections for sewing machines, where the economical girl may make her own dresses and other clothing. A laundry, with modern equipment, also has been installed.

PROVIDES WAY TO REMOVE OFFICER

House Bill Would Make Violation of Penal Laws Grounds for a Writ of Ouster

NEGLECT OF DUTY EITHER

Attorney-General or County Prosecutor Would Have Power to Start Proceedings

Representative Boruff, of Lawrence county, has introduced a bill providing for the removal of public officers of the state, county, city or township, excepting judges of the supreme and appellate courts and legislators, for violation of their trusts or as a result of conviction of a violation of any state or federal penal laws, for willful misconduct in office or neglect of the duties of the office.

The bill provides that upon conviction a writ of ouster shall be the judgment of the court of conviction and the defendant removed from office.

According to the provisions of the bill one person or a number of persons may petition the attorney-general of the state or the prosecutor of the county in which he lives, asking for an investigation. The bill provides that the county prosecutor or the attorney-general, if it be a state officer accused of misconduct in office, shall immediately make the demanded investigation, and if it is found that sufficient grounds exist for the beginning of prosecution, the prosecutor, or attorney-general, shall immediately begin an action seeking the writ of ouster against the accused official.

The prosecutor or attorney-general is to have the power to begin proceedings without the petition, but in such case checks are put upon the action of the county prosecutor.

If he begins action of his own volition he must submit the facts in the case to the attorney-general, who may then order him to cease the prosecution or may take the action into his own hands and conduct the case as he sees fit. The bill does not except judges of county courts or of judicial circuits. In case action is brought against them it is provided that the attorney-general shall have the power to name the court in which the case is to be tried. If the action is being brought against the attorney-general of the state the bill provides that the prosecutor of Marion county, the largest in population in the state, shall become the prosecutor of the case. All cases against state officials are to be conducted by the attorney-general.

The bill provides that action for a writ of ouster against public officials shall take precedents over all other civil and criminal cases and shall be tried at the first term of court or after the defendant has received ten days' notice of the suit. Continuance may be granted to either side for cause, but no continuances are to be granted if both sides agree upon a continuance. This is inserted to avoid the possibility of an agreement as to a continuance—perhaps extending over the term of the officer charged in the suit—a possibility which might come about through political or other influences.

The bill gives the right of appeal to either side after the hearing. The appeal of a defendant, however, is not to operate as a stay of the judgment of the lower court, and the defendant must give bond in a sum to be named by the court. The notice of the filing of an appeal must be made within sixty days, the bill provides.

The bill provides that the court of hearing may suspend the accused officer from his position if, at a hearing to be held five days after the filing of the suit, sufficient evidence of his guilt be shown by the plaintiff. In case of suspension the bill provides that the authorities having appointive power over the position of the official may appoint another to succeed to the temporarily vacated position. It is provided in the bill that for disobedience of a subpoena for a witness in such cases the court may sentence a person to a term of not more than six months in jail and add a fine of not more than $500.

The provisions of the bill include an immunity clause for witnesses. It is provided that a witness may not be excused from testifying on the ground that he might incriminate himself, but does provide that any testimony which he may give at the hearing shall not be the basis for future action against the witness under the penal laws of the state. This practically offers entire immunity to the witness, regardless of his guilt. The author of the bill says this is done because of the difficulty now faced in convincing those "higher up" because employees and others refuse to testify against them.

The bill is now in the hands of a committee. A report on the bill is expected soon.

FARMING WILL BE TAUGHT TO VAGS

Scientific Way Will be Told to Tramps by Using Them on Farm of 2,000 Acres

IS DONE FOR AN EXPERIMENT

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, O., Feb. 5.—A plan to give the recalcitrant "vag" a hand at scientific farming by putting the 2,000 acres of Warrensville Farm, Cleveland, great corrective institution, under scientific cultivation, is being worked out here today.

Not only the tramp who comes out of the police courts with an enforced vacation tagged on him but every prisoner would be given an opportunity to tend his little patch of onions, carrots, peas, corn or whatever the case might be.

The major portion of the farm will be cut up into plots of forty acres or so in order that experimentation can progress on a larger scale than is now customary on state experimentation farms. A complete and scientific record of the crop from "seed to shuck" would be kept by experts.

The proposed project is being put into form on the assumption that Western reserve university and Case School of Applied Science here may some day be merged into a municipal university requiring a course in scientific agriculture.

COUP IS SPRUNG BY SUTHERLAND

Senator Asks That Shively of Indiana in Investigation That is Proposed by Senate.

RESOLUTION IS MADE BROAD

Complaint is Based on Terre Haute Convictions, Including Opinion by Judge Anderson.

Washington, Feb. 6.—At the meeting of the Senate committee on privileges and elections yesterday, held to consider the resolution for an investigation of the prenomination and election expenses of Senator Boise Penrose and the prenomination expenses of Roger Sullivan of Illinois, Senator Sutherland of Utah, acting under a prearranged plan, sprang a coup by moving the adoption of an amendment so as to provide for an investigation of the election of Senators Shively of Indiana, Underwood of Alabama, Phelan of California and Johnson of South Dakota.

Sutherland, in support of his amendment, submitted to the committee a mass of material bearing on the Terre Haute election frauds, including the opinion of Judge Anderson overruling the demurrer of the defendants, who are under indictment.

The majority of the committee voted down the Sutherland amendment, but adopted another amendment which provides that the committee will extend the inquiry to "any other states in case evidence brought before the committee may justify it."

It is believed the Republicans of the Senate pretty generally will oppose the adoption of the resolution unless it is made a dragnet affair as proposed by the Sutherland amendment. This probably will mean a thorough airing of the Terre Haute case in the Senate.

BROWN TAKEN ON SUSPICION

High Living Without Work Caused
Belief he Had $180 Martin
Kelley Missed Dec. 18.

PECULIAR CASE RECALLED

Man Who Was Present When Money
Disappeared Found With $26
Bill on Person.

Circumstantial evidence and acts of the past month caused the arrest today of Omer Brown. Brown is charged in an affidavit filed in the circuit court with stealing $180 from Martin Kelley, a local blacksmith. He was arraigned in the court before Judge Sparks and entered a formal plea of not guilty and went to jail in default of $200 bond.

High living without any apparent work on the part of Brown is said to be the main reason why he is suspected of taking the money. It will be recalled that the money disappeared from the blacksmith shop on Dec. 18 last, after Kelley had exhibited his "role" and had given it to Roy (Spook) Morrison so that Morrison could make a "show" with the money.

Morrison returned the money to Kelley and a short time later Kelley handed the pocketbook containing the $180 in bills and about $400 in notes back to Morrison when something was said about betting. This was the last Kelley ever saw of the money. It completely disappeared. The shop was searched from one end to the other. Brown and Morrison were arrested at that time but the money was not found on them and they were released, as the state had no case.

Since that time the police have watched the men who were involved and who were at the shop when the transaction occurred. The police state that Brown has been spending his time in Connersville and spent money right and left, while he has not worked a single day. It was a mystery to them how he could spend so much money without working, and they continued to watch him.

About a week ago Brown appeared at a local fruit store and purchased some goods. In payment for the amount purchased he flashed a twenty dollar bill. The owner of the store, being unable to change it, went out to get the change, and in looking for change, went to the James H. Barrett restaurant. Mr. Barrett asked him where he obtained the bill and the owner of the fruit store told him Omer Brown had given it to him. Mr. Barrett immediately took the bill to Kelley and Kelley stated that the bill closely resembled one he had in the roll that disappeared.

Nothing was done at that time and Brown was not molested. He continued to spend money and made frequent trips to Connersville and St. Paul, according to police. The case will likely be taken up by the grand jury, which meets Monday.

DUKE IS FINED $50 AND COSTS

Man Who Shot Frank Richardson

Admits Guilt on Assault and Battery Charge.

INTENT CLAUSE IS DROPPED

Richardson First Refuses to Answer
Whether he Wants Such Action Taken.

Walter Duke was fined $50 and costs this morning for assault and battery on Frank Richardson, colored. It will be remembered that Duke shot Richardson, after Richardson had offered to assist Mrs. Duke in getting him from the barn to the house. The intent to kill clause in the affidavit was dropped after considerable effort on the part of all involved.

Judge Sparks at one time stated that the case was continued and that the grand jury would meet Monday. He did this after Richardson would not consent to dismiss the intent part of the affidavit. He later changed his mind and told the court that he was willing that this part be nulled. Both Duke and Richardson told the court how the affair occurred.

Richardson, the injured party first told his version of the affair to the court and was followed by Duke stated that he had been drinking and when the negro appeared in the barn he thought he was there to rob him and shot not knowing who it was or why he was there. Richardson said he went there upon the request of Mrs. Duke.

He related how Mrs. Duke had called him as he was passing the house, asking him to assist her in getting Walter to the house from the barn. Richardson stated she entered the barn first and that he followed her. They found Mr. Duke on the floor and she spoke to him he reached towards his right hip pocket. Richardson stated that Mrs. Duke screamed and ran from the building. Before Richardson could get out Duke shot him, the bullet entering the right thigh. Richardson told the court that Duke attempted to shoot the second time but that the cartridge failed to explode.

Judge Sparks asked him if he was willing that the intent part be dropped, but the question was never answered and Richardson seemed unwilling to do so. He said he would like to ask his attorney but Judge Sparks told him he was the one to decide on this question. The court was willing to dismiss the intent charge if it was satisfactory to the injured party and as Richardson was the injured person and did not seem inclined to consent the court announced that the case was continued and that the grand jury would meet Monday, intimating that the case would be taken up at that time if it was not settled this morning.

SAYS WATSON IS AS G.O.P. TIMBER

National Magazine. Published at

Boston, Pays High Tribute to
Rushville Man's Ability

POSSESSES QUALIFICATIONS

Writer Says His Conscientious Performance of Public Acts Appeal
to Solid Citizens.

The National magazine, published at Boston, sees in James E. Watson a Republican presidential possibility and pays high tribute to his ability in an article recently published. The magazine says his conscientious performance of public duties appeal strongly to a large number of the solid citizens of a large section of the country. The magazine says in regard to Mr. Watson:

In taking a survey of the Presidential possibilities, we must not overlook the fact that Indiana is very proud of the distinguished services rendered in Congress by James E. Watson; and there is a feeling that he possesses Presidential qualifications of the highest order. We find there is a very widespread sentiment favoring his nomination, not only in Indiana, but throughout the West and Southwest. Watson is a man of scholarly attainments, broad legislative experience, having served several terms in Congress, and a very uncommon commonsense permeates all his public speeches and acts. As an orator he is pre-eminent. He appeals very strongly to the common people because of his broad sympathies and his safe leadership as exhibited throughout his entire public career. The same forces that defeated Myron T. Herrick for second term as Governor of Ohio, viz., the intemperance of the temperance movement, defeated Watson in his race for Governor of Indiana. Keep your eye on Watson and do not overlook the fact that his stalwart Republicanism, his unwavering loyalty to its principles, and the conscientious performance of all his public acts appeal strongly to large numbers of the solid citizens of a large section of the country.

Already there are echoes beyond the boundaries of his native state as far south as Oklahoma that Hon. James E. Watson is the man of the hour. The picture of the former young congressman on the platform at the National Republican Convention in 1912 still remains in the minds of many Republicans. He was there to meet the challenge of Governor Hadley of Missouri, and it was a picturesque forensic debate. "Jim" Watson was an aggressive but popular whip on the Republican side in Congress. He is a forceful speaker and a good campaigner. Having been prominently identified with civic society work he has many friends all over the country, and has been especially active in the high councils of the K. of P. A level-headed, aggressive type of a tried and true young Republican leader is the way his legion of admirers speak of Jim Watson of Indiana.

If he secures the Hoosier delegation there will be some lively whoop-ers to join with Watson at the 1916 convention, and his friends are hoping to have him properly groomed as the expectant dark horse on which all factions and phases of Republicans can unite and launch a campaign with the fire and fervor characteristic of Watson.

$5,600 BLAZE AT CHARLOTTESVILLE

Fire Destroys W. R. McGraw's Two-
Story Brick Building and W.
S. Lane's Merchandise Stock.

FRAME STRUCTURE BURNS TOO

A destructive fire occurred at Charlottesville Thursday night, destroying W. R. McGraw's two-story brick building and the entire stock of general merchandise of W. S. Lane, tenant. The aggregate loss to the owner of the building and the store proprietor was $5,600.

The fire was discovered about 10:30 o'clock and had made great headway. It is thought to have originated from a stove explosion, caused by an accumulation of gas when the store was closed up. A frame building adjoining the brick was also consumed. It also belonged to Mr. McGraw. Mr. Lane, who had been in business there for seventeen years, had a large stock of general merchandise, which involved January 1st at $4,400. He carried $3,500 worth of insurance. Mr. McGraw carried $1,200 insurance on the building.

Thirty-six years ago a building burned on this same corner, starting from the drug store of W. H. H. Rock, adjoining.

SICK ONE WEEK WITH PNEUMONIA

Mrs. William F. Matney, Native of

Noble Township, Expires at Home in Connersville.

MARRIED AT NEW SALEM, 1871

Three Sons and Husband of Fayette
County and Many Relatives in
This County Survive.

Mrs. William Frank Matney, a native of Noble township, who had many relatives in this county, is dead at her home in Connersville after an illness with pneumonia of only a week's duration. Her death was a deep shock to her many relatives and friends because it was not generally known that her condition was serious, much less critical.

Mrs. Matney died Thursday night. She was stricken with double pneumonia a week ago last Thursday. She seemed to be improving Tuesday and Wednesday, but Thursday there was a change for the worse. Mrs. Matney was sixty-three years of age.

Mrs. Nannie Overhese, wife of S. T. Overhese of Milroy, who is spending the winter in Florida, is now on her way to Connersville for the funeral of Mrs. Matney, who was her sister, and it is expected she will arrive by Sunday so that the funeral may be held Monday morning at ten o'clock. Burial will take place in the new Dale cemetery just east of Connersville.

Mrs. Matney was born in Noble township, near New Salem. Rohanna Williams was her maiden name. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams. She was born June the twenty-fifth, 1851, and was united in marriage with W. F. Matney at New Salem, September 13, 1871. Three sons were born and all survive. They are William T., John E. and Earl Matney, all of Fayette county.

Five sisters, Mrs. Ahonda Duke, of near Knightstown, Mrs. Nannie Overhese, of Milroy, Mrs. Lizzie J. Matney and Mrs. Erma Morris, of the same vicinity and Mrs. Fannie Morris, of Orange, survive.

Mrs. Matney was a life-long member of the Flatrock Christian church. She was a devout Christian and fidelity to her religion was one of the great facts of her life. Her home was a model of happiness. She was a gentle mother and wife and her removal leaves a great gap in the lives of the husband and the sons. Mrs. Matney was charitable almost to a fault. During her long residence here she had made friends past counting.

War Did Not Shake Their Market

A manufacturer of a well known household product widely and splendidly advertised, reports that his business has actually increased during the so-called "war depression."

He attributes the fact to more discriminating buying.

He believes the public, educated to a belief in the quality of this product, turned to it in dull times.

In this case advertising forged a particular brand ahead at a time when others were going back.

The advertising had established the idea of character in the mind of the public, and in times of stress that character was a veritable gold mine of assets.

LAST OF HARMONY CLASS EXPIRES

Mrs. Phoebe Cotton, Whose Funeral Will be Held Monday Morning, Had That Distinction.

SHE RESIDED NEAR MANILLA

She is Survived by Five Children, One of Whom is Frank Cotton, Well Known Here.

The funeral of Mrs. Phoebe Cotton, who died Thursday midnight at her home near Manilla, will be held at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning at the residence, with the Rev. J. E. Sargent of Indianapolis in charge. Mrs. Cotton was the last member of the famous old Missouri Harmony class, of Morristown, an organization which was founded many years ago, continued for a long time and is remembered now only by the annual reunion which is held by the ancestors of its members each year in Morristown.

Mrs. Cotton was the mother of Frank Cotton, who formerly lived in Manilla, but went, together with his wife, after the death of her husband to live with her. Mr. Cotton is well known here in Rushville, having married a daughter of Mrs. Sarah Casady and a sister of E. R. and Knowles Casady.

Mrs. Cotton enjoyed a very wide acquaintance, cultivated during her many years of residence near Manilla. Since her marriage to Mr. Cotton, more than three score years ago, she had lived at the home where her death occurred. She was a member of the Manilla Methodist church, the services of which she attended regularly until prevented by declining health.

Mrs. Phoebe (nee Johnston,) widow of the late Thomas Cotton, was the oldest resident of Union township, Shelby county, being eighty-five years, two months and two days old at the time of her death. She was a daughter of Jonathan and Anna Johnston, prominent early pioneers of this county, and was born on December 2, 1829, near Morristown, and her entire life was spent in this county. She was married to Mr. Cotton on October 13, 1849, and to their union ten children were born. Five survive. They are Mrs. Joseph Haymond, of Waldron; C. C. Cotton, of Shelby county; Mrs. A. J. Hungerford, of Pittsburg, Miss Josephine Cotton, of Greensburg, and Frank Cotton, at home. She also leaves eight grand children and ten great grand children. Her husband preceded her to the great beyond thirteen years ago.

Mrs. Cotton's death was due to a complication of diseases incident to old age. She has been ill since last Sunday. All of her children were at her bedside during her last illness.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

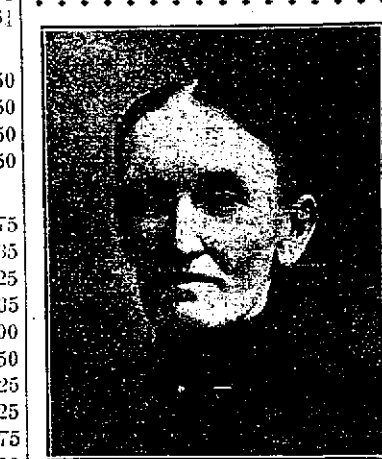

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and abundant.

Obituary.

Mrs. Hannah Matilda Oldham

Mrs. Hannah Matilda Oldham daughter of Lewis J. and Mary Ann Newhouse, was born June 11, 1850, and departed this life Friday, January 22, 1915, at the age of 64 years, 6 months, and 11 days.

The subject of this sketch, Miss Hannah M. Newhouse, was married to Elijah D. Oldham, March 4, 1869. One daughter, Mrs. Lydia E. Sample, was born to this union August 13, 1870. The husband and father died August 16, 1907.

Soon after her husband's death, Mrs. Oldham moved to Rushville, where she continued to live except the winters she spent in the southwest in search of health.

Mrs. Oldham lived a conscientious christian life. All through her childhood, womanhood and maturer years, she lived the life of a christian. In Dec. 1908, she joined the Primitive Baptist church in Rushville, and was a faithful member of that church until her death.

Six years ago, her delicate health caused her to seek a warmer climate in which to spend her winters. Each year found her strength gradually failing her until the end came in Phoenix, Arizona.

This noble woman leaves a daughter and her husband, two grandchildren, six brothers and one sister, to mourn her departure. The home circle, the church, and the whole community will miss the guiding counsel and cheerful words of Mrs. Oldham.

A large assembly of friends and relatives gathered at her late home in Rushville, on the occasion of her funeral, bearing faithful floral tokens thus giving expression to the high esteem in which she was held by those who knew her. After a funeral discourse by her former pastor, Eld. John R. Daily, of Indianapolis, her mortal remains were interred beside that of her husband in the Rushville cemetery to await her Master's call. 28211

Ralph Hackleman is the first here to announce he is a candidate in the Indianapolis Star contest for a trip to the Panama exposition. He will make a canvass and solicit the aid of all. 28311

King Albert is Doggedly Determined to Hold on Tenaciously in Case of German Attack.

ARMY FEELS THE SAME WAY

(By United Press.)

At Grand Headquarters, King of Belgium, inside Belgian frontier, Feb. 6.—Doggedly determined never to yield the remainder of his little kingdom to the Germans King Albert is here on the battle line directing the movement of the reorganized Belgian forces along the Yser. It was stated by one of the Belgian officers he would never abandon Belgian soil even if attacked by the Germans.

"He would enter the trenches inside the frontier of his kingdom and met his end with a gun at his shoulder," one officer told me. And he added, "The whole Belgian army is saturated with the same spirit."

This is not the same army that fell back crushed under the weight of the kaiser's great human machine. The Belgians have been completely reorganized and newly equipped from top to boot. They have had the rest which they needed."

EDUCATION OF A BOY DISCUSSED

Parent-Teachers Association Hears Talks of Many Phases of Subject Friday Afternoon.

VALUE OF LEADERS SHOWN

The Parent-teachers association held a most interesting session yesterday afternoon when "The Education of a Boy" was the subject for discussion. The Rev. C. M. Yocum "Pre-school Development." He said that the parents should do all in their power to give the boy a strong body ready for spiritual development. Miss Margaret Casady read a paper by Virgil Binford on the subject, "Physical Education," in which the value of devoting this phase of the boy's life was shown. "Intellectual Education" was the subject of a talk by Dr. V. W. Tevis. He declared that the boy should be taught to have ideals and that he should prepare for some avocation in life. Among the question on boys, Mrs. Warder Wyatt discussed the feasibility of allowing boys to work when they attend school and whether or not they should be allowed spending money. Superintendent J. H. Scholl talked about boys' societies. He extolled the work of the Boy Scouts and said that all boys' organizations should have a competent leader or teacher.

"I saved the money during the Republican administration to carry me through the Democratic administration."

tion," said John Eberhardt, 503 Morris street, to Judge Lahr, of the juvenile court, Thursday afternoon. Eberhardt was in court on charge of failing to provide for his minor children. It was brought out that he had $150 in the bank, and Judge Lahr asked him how he came to have the money in the bank.

Eberhardt was brought into court on the complaint of his wife, Mrs. Melissa Eberhardt 934 Chadwick street, but before the hearing was concluded Judge Lahr decided that the court officers should investigate the case more thoroughly and be ordered Eberhardt and his wife to come back into court next Wednesday.

When Eberhardt appeared in court before Newton M. Taylor, former judge of the court, some time ago, it developed that Eberhardt and his wife failed to agree to such a point that Eberhardt had barricaded himself in one room of the house, against which Mrs. Eberhardt directed her attacks with various household articles in an effort to dislodge him. The court at that time ordered Eberhardt to make his home elsewhere and Eberhardt decided the property over to his wife.

Why Woman Should Vote

Because she is the mother of man, and without her man would cease to exist.

Because she is the intellectual equal and the moral superior of man.

Because woman transmits her intelligence to her offspring, and if she has the power to do this she is the equal intelligence with her offspring, for none of us may give that which we do not possess.

Because if she is the mental equal of that male offspring she has an equal right to a voice in the shaping of the laws which shall govern her, as well as him.

Because she is qualified by every law of nature to exercise the right of franchise.

Because the instinct of woman leads always to the upbuilding of the human race.

Because she abhors the trickery and deceit and grafting rampant in modern political parties.

Because that abhorrence would lead her to the cleansing of those parties and the purification of the ballot.

Because she would labor to place men in public office who would govern for the people and not for self.

Because she is a believer in the parity of all homes, and because of this belief she is a safe person to say who shall govern a community made up of many homes.

Because her ideals of right and justice are superior to those of man.

Because man owes his perspective to the care and training of woman in his infancy, though many forsake her gentle ways in the later years of life.

Because man owes to woman a debt which it is not within his power ever to repay.

Because her entrance into the political arena would mean a better state, a greater country, a closer communion with the laws of God and man.

Because she is the essence of purity, the light of the home, and the star which beckons man on to greater and nobler deeds.

Because she is woman, the mother of man.

Bryan's Visit

William Jennings Bryan, the man who has been issuing prophetic sayings all these years, none of which ever came true, comes to Indiana to tell us how we should run our state—the same William Jennings Bryan who clings to the party that had advocated state's rights since its birth and is still using the policy to dodge behind when questions of great importance arise.

Secretary Bryan comes to Indiana to tell Hoosier Democracy that it should keep his platform pledge and enact a state-wide, direct primary law.

Let's see, what kind of a teacher is William Jennings Bryan, anyway? Is he not the same William Jennings Bryan who is credited with being responsible for the nomination of Woodrow Wilson at the Baltimore convention? He is. Is not the Woodrow Wilson he made the candidate of the Democratic party the same Woodrow Wilson, who, when he was elected president, violated the platform pledge of his party by not enacting legislation which would allow free Panama tolls for the coastwise ships? He is. Is he not the same Woodrow Wilson who is now being groomed as the next candidate for the presidency on the Democratic ticket which is in direct violation of one plank of the Democratic platform adopted at Baltimore? He is.

As a teacher Secretary Bryan falls far below the mark. He has been discredited too often. Indiana Democracy is not likely to pay any attention to him.

A few days ago dispatches conveyed the information that probably the largest mail order house in Chicago had just declared a stock dividend of fifty percent or $20,000,000 to the holders of the $40,000,000 common stock. We are led to wonder how many dollars of that juicy fifty percent came from Rush county? And yet the merchant who is your neighbor too often accused by you of making too high a rate on his investment. How long, we wonder, will scissible persons continue to be hoodwinked by the alluring and glaring catalogues of the cheating mail order houses?

Funny how touchy some people are! A fellow came into our office recently and said his doctor told him ten years ago that if he did not stop smoking at once he would become feeble minded. And when we asked why he didn't stop, he just stalked out and slammed the door.

Over in Europe they build a neat little house in the top of a tree for observation purposes, and then along comes an enemy's shell and whisks house and occupant off to glory.

A self appointed committee has just announced the names of the seven best dressed women in Chicago. Why not trot out the seven poorest dressed and note the contrast?

Every one of the warring nations accuses this country of favoring the other side. And poor old Uncle Sam is literally busting his gallus in a frantic effort to straddle the fence.

After we have spent all of our spare coin in the relief of suffering abroad, it will be in order for Europe to pass the hat for the starving unfortunates in our own midst.

There is a fellow around here who never reads his home paper, and people often wonder at his lack of knowledge concerning local affairs. We don't.

General "Jesus" Carranza has been executed in Mexico. There is some consolation in following in the footsteps of an illustrious predecessor.

United Press Record For Year Just Closed Is A Remarkable One

That the record of the United Press Associations, of which the Daily Republican is a member, is a remarkable one, is proved by the following review of the United Press given in the Fourth Estate's news review of the year 1914.

"The year was a record-breaker in news achievements for the United Press as well as in increased business. Looking back over the wonderful news year stand out among the world beats scored by this organization. The most recent of these was the interview with the German crown prince by Karl H. Von Wiegand, United Press correspondent, generally conceded to be the high water mark of enterprise from the newspaper point of view in the great world war. Next was the eight-hour beat scored by Henry Wood, United Press manager at Rome, on the death of Pope Pius by use of the simple code message prepared long in advance. The first was the beat accomplished by William G. Shepherd, in announcing to the American public and to the navy department itself, the landing of American marines on Mexican soil at Vera Cruz, full three hours before the news reached this country through any other channel.

"There have been so many other big news features that it is difficult to arrange them in order or to classify them. One of the highest compliments paid the United Press during the year was the selection of William Philip Simms, United Press manager at Paris, to represent America at the front, when only one correspondent from each of eight neutral nations was permitted to go. Up to this time Simms is the only American correspondent who has been officially permitted to visit the fighting lines in France.

"While all American newspaper men are familiar with the accomplishments of the United Press, it may be interesting to note that the U. P. stuff on the war has been printed almost as widely in England as in the United States. Not only through the clients served by the United Press in London and in the provinces, but through stories taken from the New York papers and cable back to London, the U. P. correspondents have been given great prominence in the British press. Von Wiegand, Shepherd, Simms and Wood are known almost as well to newspaper readers in London as they are to American readers."

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

Psychological Business.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.) It has been asserted by a distinguished public official residing in the White House at Washington, that business conditions in the United States are psychological, a mere state of mind, and this utterance from the dais is repeated and reiterated by lesser and subservient officials until people of a certain temperament reach that degree of hypnosis which compels belief. Such persons cannot be awakened from the cataleptic state until the master hand is waved before their eyes, and the master hand at present is other wise busily engaged.

But the majority of Americans, happily, are not so easily influenced by the spell of words, and these will find nutriment for thought in a statement, prepared by one of the country's largest and most reliable commercial agencies, showing the number of failures occurring in the twelve months ending October 31, 1914, in the same period of 1912-13, and in the preceding calendar years back to 1873. This shows the number of failures in the period first mentioned, November 1, 1913, to October 31, 1914, to have been 17,418 with liabilities totaling $357,345,645. In the next preceding twelve months there were 15,632 failures with liabilities of $259,802,536, a total for the two years of 33,050 failures and $608,148,181 liabilities. In the entire history of the country there has been nothing to equal this in commercial destructiveness. Previous to this the high record of disasters was made in the cataclysmic year of 1893 when there were 15,242 failures with liabilities of $346,779,889. The "panic" of 1907 resulted in failures in 1908 numbering 15,690, with the comparatively small liabilities of $222,315,684.

It must be observed that the figures for 1914 do not include the final months of November and December, and that they cover but 3 months of the war period and those the first three, in which the effects of the war upon American business conditions could not yet have become serious to the point of disaster. It is quite plain that this unprecedented record of commercial destructiveness is entirely due to the acts and policies of the Wilson administration. In the face of these facts "psychology" is a feeble word.

Central Delivery System

It is with pleasure that we, the undersigned merchants announce to our customers that we have contracted with the Benson Delivery Co., to establish a central delivery station in this city. We did this only after a thorough investigation in other cities where such systems are established. Wherever they are in operation, central delivery systems are meeting the approval of both merchants and patrons.

Central Delivery Starts Mon. February 15
....What It Does....

CENTRAL DELIVERY enables the merchant to organize his working force and confine all his attention within the store, without worry about getting orders out on time, for the delivery is in charge of a responsible man, who will see that goods go out on schedule time. CENTRAL DELIVERY in no way prevents competition, as every merchant fixes his own prices.

CENTRAL DELIVERY will benefit customers, as they can place their orders and know just at what hour to expect the delivery wagon, by referring to their schedule.

With co-operation between merchants and customers, the new system will be a pleasure and a satisfaction to all concerned and we feel that we have solved a problem, that in the past, has required too much of the merchant's time that should have been devoted to matters within the store.

The new Central Station, under the management of E. E. Benson, is located at Morgan and Water streets in a new sanitary building, built especially for this purpose, and you are invited there at any time to see the careful handling of orders.

For an eleven o'clock dinner or merchandise wanted early, place your order in time for the eight o'clock delivery.

With your co-operation in the new system, we expect Rushville to have the best delivery service that has ever been given.

These merchants will deliver your goods on time:—

Mr. Lane put up such strong argument on 'fire protection' that I followed his advice and bought the Fig. 28, little thinking that it would be of any service to me in that respect. Public Sale..

To be a success must be well advertised. The more people who know of a sale the larger the crowd, resulting in more competitive bidding, higher prices for the stuff and more dollars in the holder's pocket. The Daily Republican goes into every town, community and neighborhood in Rush County, and has more paid subscribers than all the rest of the Rushville papers combined. Right now everybody is looking for and reading sale notices. They want to buy. The Republican's "Public Sales" advertisements tell them who is having a sale, when and where. Sale bills will always be used but their number is decreasing. Newspaper advertising is found to reach more people and when they are in a mood to read, and is getting more popular all the time. When a man holds a sale he expects to spend a few dollars in advertising it, but he wants results. Come in; we can "deliver the goods." "Red Head" sale bills and display spaces at a reasonable rate, and we give you prompt service.

COMPLICATED IS COMING RACE

American League is Hard to Dope Out Since There Has Been Several Changes in Managers

RED SOX TO BE CONSIDERED

Mack's Pitching Staff is Badly Bent and His Infield is Minus Services of Collins

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Feb. 6.—Fans around Belligerent Ban Johnson's loop with leanings toward doping out prospective winners are going to have one tough job this season unless all the signs are pointing wrong. The usual pre-season dope is pointing to a rather complicated race with several teams, if they run true to form, in the race from April until October, or.

Two new managers with greatly strengthened aggregations have to be considered. These are the Chicago White Sox with Clarence Henry Rowland at the helm, and the rejuvenated Yankees with Wild Bill Donovan wielding the baton. And with Eddie Collins enervating around second base for the Sox and one of the best hurling corps in the league, those same Sox begin to stack up pretty large in the American race.

There are those, and there are many of them, who think Connie Mack has "shot his wad" that the elongated tactician will not be able to pull his disabled machine home in front. His pitching staff is badly bent with the absence of Bender and Frank and his infield cannot boast that it is of the $100,000 variety now that with Eddie Collins is among the missing.

Then the Boston Red Sox are to be considered. Boston, it will be remembered made a great spurt towards the close of last season and all but overtook the flying Mackmen. And they're going right back into the race with the same players and a lot of additional reserve strength.

Lastly, but not least, there are the Yanks. They seem to have emerged from an epidemic of managers and directors-control and if Wild Bill William puts the pep into his playing season that he has exhibited since signing his contract, the Highlanders must be considered in the race.

Hughey Jennings, too, is known to have pennant aspirations and is bold enough to come forth with the announcement that the flag is going to Detroit.

HOPE TO ORGANIZE COMPANY SUNDAY

Baseball Meeting Schedule For Tomorrow Afternoon at Court House Assembly Room.

DAVIDSON WILL ATTEND

The baseball meeting to be held Sunday afternoon in the assembly room of the court house at which time it is expected to form a stock company to operate the club here the coming summer, promises to be well attended. The meeting will be held at two o'clock. Many fans tending the meeting and it is hoped to form the organization and have something definite to work on.

The plan will be fully explained to all who attend and also plans for the season will be discussed. Manager Davidson, of last year's team is expected in the city tonight and will attend the meeting tomorrow. It was the original intention of getting seventy-five stock holders but from present indications the one hundred mark will be reached.

REPUBLICANS BUSY ALL OVER INDIANA

Council No. 1 of the Commercial Travelers League of Indiana will be organized at Terre Haute Friday night—McKinley's birthday. There are no more enthusiastic and persistent evangelists of Republicanism in Indiana than the traveling men, and they are preparing to perfect a close organization over the state to the end that they can further advance the interest of the Republican party which is but another way of saying that they are anxious to advance their own interests. It is the plan to organize a branch of the Commercial Travelers League of Indiana in every city that has a traveling men's post. This work is to be done during the "off year" so that everything will be properly "set" for the Republican traveling men when the barrier drops for the next campaign.

Former Governor Richard Yates, of Illinois, will deliver his address on Lincoln before the Cass County Republican Club at Logansport on Feb. 12. This club, which was organized since the recent election, is a very vigorous organization. Not meeting night passes that some former active Progressive leader does not identify himself with the club. The chairman of the Cass county Progressive Committee during the 1914 campaign was one of the speakers of a recent meeting of the Republican club.

The newly organized Lawrence county Republican club will open headquarters in Bedford next Friday night—McKinley's birthday. The membership of this club is increasing at a lively rate. Headquarters will be open each day until after the next election.

Active Republican clubs have been organized in the fifth and tenth wards of the city of Hammond.

Republican members of the state legislature are planning to attend a big possum feed at Fortville on the night of Feb. 4. As an evidence of the enthusiasm that exists among Republicans it might be cited that the Republicans of this small town in a strong Democratic county are expecting to entertain 600 voters.

The Harrison Club of Gary is planning to celebrate Lincoln's birthday with a "dollar dinner." Here is a club that has sprung up since the recent election that is putting up a pretty stiff pace for similar organization to follow. The membership list is growing daily.

ANOTHER WIN ADDED TO LIST

Rushville Took Fast Game From Hope Team Last Night by Score of 35 to 20.

SHOWED BETTER TEAM WORK

Team Work of Locals Was Feature, Visitors Being Unable to Solve The Attack.

The Rushville high school added another victory to its already long string by defeating the Hope high school team last night 35 to 20. The game was fast and rough and the pace set by the locals was too fast for Hope. The team work of the Rushville team was especially good and the team showed improved form in hitting the basket.

The one big fault with the Hope team was that it insisted in taking long shots at the basket even after they had failed time and time again. The long shot won't do on the local floor and every one that is made is either luck or an accident. But Rushville should worry over Hope's long shots as the visitors were outplayed from start to finish.

The Rushville defense was impregnable and the Hope team came near failing to register a field goal in the last half as none was made until along towards the close. Both teams played very hard and many personal fouls resulted mainly from being over anxious. Tittsworth, Stoops and Martin led in the goal getting and the team work of this trio was exceptionally good. Winslow and Brecheisen deserve much credit for their defensive work as play after play was broken up and the visitor's team work shot to pieces.

The game started out very fast and Hope was the first to score. Templeton registering a goal from foul. Rushville gradually found itself and then proceeded to run up the score. The pace was too fast at the start to last very long and before the end of the first half both teams were pretty well played out and the game had slowed down considerably. The first half ended 19 to 12 in favor of Rushville.

Hope seemed unable to solve the system of play of the Rushville team and time after time the machine like work of Martin to Tittsworth to Stoops resulted in apparently easy goals. Towards the end of the game Hope was thrown on the defensive and the game became very rough.

In the curtain raiser the Reds defeated the Blacks 3 to 0. The girl teams played good ball and the Reds made all their points in the first half.

The line up and summary follow:
Rushville: Tittsworth, Forward, Stoops, Forward, Martin, Center, Winslow, Guard, Brecheisen, Guard.
Hope: Templeton, Forward, Kemp, Forward, Spotts, Center, Girton, Guard, Powell, Guard.

Field goals—Tittsworth, 7; Stoops, 5; Martin, 4; Templeton, 4; Kemp, 2; Spotts, 1. Foul goals—Stoops, 1; Martin, 2; Kemp, 5; Spotts, 1. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Referee, Henley, of Purdue.

COURT HOUSE DARK

With the exception of one or two offices, the court house was as dark as pitch yesterday afternoon when the clouds were hanging low. There were no lights in the corridors and visitors in the court house were very liable to stumble over a conspirator any time. It was explained that Joe Dickman, the custodian, was trying to make a record for economy since the city placed an electric meter in the court house. Some county officials, however, paid no attention to the economy idea and burned the electricity anyway when they needed it.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

TWO AMERICAN NURSES KILLED

Executed as Spies by English as it Was Shown They Were Sympathizers of Germany.

ARE NOW WATCHED CLOSELY

Latest War Poster Advertisers an Excursion to Germany Starting in the Spring

(By United Press.)

London, Jan. 20. (By Mail to New York)—That two nurses of American nationality but of German sympathies, serving with the British army in France, has been detected acting as spies and "effectually dealt with" is the assertion made today by the Nursing Mirror.

"There have been persistent rumors of female spies masquerading as nurses both abroad and at home," says the journal, "but we have been slow to believe them. Unfortunately, evidence of a convincing character has been placed before us.

"Lord Kitchener, it appears, was afraid that the reports were not groundless, and earlier in the war, when he was at Southampton he discovered that there was a leakage of news going on, and made inquiries, with the result that four women were found to be the culprits.

"Two of these were nurses, and they were at once requested to go inland, not because they were suspected of willfully giving information to the enemy, but because they had been lacking in discretion.

"On the other side of the Channel matters have been more serious. Two nurses were proved to have acted as spies.

They were, of course, effectually dealt with, and it is good to know that they were not of English nationality, but Americans with German sympathies.

"Still, the incident proves the urgent importance of no nurses or women being allowed to enter homes of foreign hospitals whose attendants have not been subjected to the most careful investigation by a responsible official."

"What's it like in the trenches?" said a wounded non-commissioned officer, recovering in a London hospital. "It's awful—up to the knees in mud and muffers!"

The latest recruiting poster circulated in Cornwall reads: "The country is arranging for an excursion to Germany in the spring. All hotel expenses and railway fares paid. Good shooting and hunting. Ages nineteen to thirty-eight. Rifles and ammunition free. Cheap trips up the Rhine. Apply at once, as there is only a limited number (1,000,000) required."

ISSUES WARNING TO CINCINNATI

FREIGHT TERMINALS NEEDED

He Points Out That Indianapolis Made Mistake—Extension to be Made From Here

Charles L. Henry, president of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company, was in Cincinnati one day recently discussing the proposed entrance of the traction into that city by way of an extension from this city, according to the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer:

A warning to provide adequate freight facilities as well as passenger terminals in the proposed interurban entrance was issued yesterday by C. L. Henry, Indiana traction magnate, who proposes to build a connection into Cincinnati for his Indiana system. Mr. Henry was at the Chamber of Commerce, coming here to personally inquire into the status of the interurban entrance project.

Indianapolis made the mistake of thinking of interurbans as primary passenger lines, and as a result their freight service for interurbans is inadequate and presents a big problem. Freight is a big factor in up-to-date interurban business, and special care should be taken to build large and well equipped freight terminals.

Mr. Henry declared that his company would build into Cincinnati as soon as the plans for the interurban entrance are settled. He estimated that his line would be in operation 18 months after work was commenced. His company has acquired control of the Cincinnati and Westwood road, and has an ordinance now pending in Council to give it a right of way from the present terminal across to the canal where it would connect with the loop. The connection will be made with the line from Indianapolis to Rushville through Harrison.

President Henry further states that money will be plentiful within the next few months and that there will be no difficulty in financing the road.

Other Legislatures

Oregonian legislators who looked with favor on an anti-lobby bill weren't game to make it apply to this session. They left off the emergency clause that was insisted on here by Governor Ralston. The bill passed the house and favorable action is expected in the senate.

Students at Wisconsin university who want to help governor Madison are aimed at in bills introduced in the Wisconsin legislature. In that city they have been having rampuses similar to those at Indiana college towns in past years.

Not satisfied with being able to adopt the commission government plan, Missouri cities are backing a bill allowing the "City Manager" plan, such as Dayton has. The Indiana legislature is considering a bill giving Indiana cities the option whether to adopt the commission or commission-manager plan. There will be a public hearing on this bill Monday night.

Certain Californians are trying to have the legislature adopt two constitutional amendments allowing the study of the bible in public schools. Having experimented as Indiana did with the cigarette law, Washington, is thinking of repealing. It is declared a "dead letter."

On the eve of a liquor fight Indiana is interested in Alabama's experience. Alabama's legislature voted the state dry. The Governor vetoed the measure and asked a referendum. The legislature immediately passed the dry bill again over the Governor's veto.

Webster says nepotism is "undue attachment to relations; favoritism shown to members of one's family." Governor Carlson of Colorado has announced that his wife has been appointed by him "assistant governor" to serve during his entire administration. She will work as many hours as he does and will look after legislation pertaining to women and children.

The Alabama legislature probably will adjourn about Friday after having worked only seventeen days. The idea is to have a "split session" so that during the "recess" of five months the members can digest some of the bulky reform measures now introduced and sound out their constituents. Incidentally the committee members each would receive $4 a day but there are only three "recess committees."

Wisconsin country newspapers are tiring of a little stunt that has in years past netted each of them a neat sum and has cost the state about $40000. Each year received $50 for printing and circulating in supplement form the enacted laws of the session. It has been an expensive proposition and a bill has been introduced calling for printing by the state and distribution of the pamphlets to all who ask for them.

The Arkansas senate has put it up to the house. Monday it passed a bill for state-wide prohibition and another giving the people a chance to vote for and against woman suffrage.

The Minister to Belgium "Should Not Like to Be Without It"

"I have taken THE LITERARY DIGEST for a great many years, and I should not like to be without it. I think it is invaluable to one who wishes to know what is going on in the world, and it gives, I think, with quite as much of the impersonal feeling as is possible to human beings, both sides of every question."

CLAM WILL HAVE NOTHING ON GARY

City Decides That it Talks Too Much for Own Good as Other Cities Get Industries

THEY READ PAPERS CLOSELY

(By United Press.)

Gary, Ind., Feb. 6.—Gary's greatest trouble is that it talks too much. That statement in a Gary Tribune editorial seems to have struck home. The proverbial clam will have nothing on Gary if the movement started continues to gain headway. Gary's remarkable growth was caused largely by self advertising, but the time to blow a horn has passed, according to local people.

"Hammond and East Chicago brag that they watch the Gary newspapers for news of 'coming' new industries, take the tip, get after the new project and land it" stated the editorial.

The article continued to "knock" enterprising newspaper correspondents who are anxious to sell stories of Gary souphouses ad th like.

Is Quite The Thing To Name Colors Fabrics And Models In War Times

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)

There's a new cloth called Tipperary. It will be quite the go in a sport coat for little Mary. Or the swellest girl you know. Goodbye to tweed and homespun. Goodbye to fair. There's a new cloth called Tipperary. And it's smart to wear.

New York, Feb. 5.—Everybody is singing the praises of a new fabric for sport coats and suits called Tipperary cloth. Everybody also who is anybody when it comes to the clothes line of distinction is preparing to make herself ship-shape for Spring in a coat of "dreadnaught grey."

The answer is that it is quite the thing to name new colors, new fabrics, and new models this year by some name closely allied to the Allies or at least some phase of the war.

"Triple Entente" is the striking title for one new model and "Albert" is a fetching tribute to the Belgian king, in old blue velvet striped chiffon over an old gold slip. Coesack and Russian flaring skirts and coats still prevail and also the trig little khaki Tommy Atkins suit but it's sand colored "chicness" is becoming almost as legion as the sands of the desert.

It seems that the heads of the fair ones more than their hearts are pro-German for the helmet effects in chapeaux are still to the fore and many are the straw ones leading the fashionable sortie of an onrushing spring bonnet.

Russian peasant dresses have proved the inspiration for an elaborate evening gown shown by Louise. It is developed in sage green corded silk and has the tight fitting peasant bodice cut out with a square decollette and laced up the sides under the arms with gold cord. The skirt is full and has the semblance of an apron worked out in heavy gold embroidery.

Military effects have also invaded the racks of the evening gowns and a saucy little model of midnight blue chiffon has its full skirt braided in gold around the deep hem and up the front and the tight bodice has gold cord draped across the front and up over the shoulders in lieu of more substantial sleeves.

Indeed all the gold braid and brass buttons and gold fringes that has been cast aside in modern warfare in favor of the inconspicuous khaki attire, seems to have been snatched up by the dressmakers and designers and turned to shining account on the frocks and furbelows of the ladies. Fringe in particular, gold or silver, is very smart edging ruffles and even the extreme edges of the full skirts themselves. Military sashes fringed with gold are a dashing touch to many an afternoon frock. One cadet blue gabardine model with gold braid frogs up the front actually had sprouted gold fringed epaulets. It looks as if you needn't be surprised soon to discover sabres and rifles as part of milady's vanity kit.

Since Paris put a ban on all hectic hues, violet and grey are the two favored shades. The grey of the mourning dove and the sadness of velvet so akin to the sombre black now perforce worn by almost all the charming women of the French capital.

All tones of the violet are good, running the gamut from deepest mauve and dove grey deep into slate and gunmetal with unvaried degrees of smartness, save that the newest grey dubbed dreadnaught is perhaps just the least more popular for the moment. It is all that its name implies, being the exact color of a battle ship.

Alas, however, the war is not content to flaunt its strong influence on our fashions alone, it has reached right up into our faces and most disastrous are bound to be the results. The whole complexion of things threatens to be changed and many are the feminine countenances that will show the battle scarred ravages of war. What haven't you heard?—there is a war tax now on powder (face of course) cold cream lotions of all beautifying sorts rouge be it liquid grease or dry, and beauty spots! Oh war we we! Isn't it just the stupid men who make the laws to call it an internal revenue tax when anyone can see on the very face of things it must vitally affects externals?

HELPS SOLVE GIRLS' PROBLEM

New Boarding House Opens for Shop and Factory Girls at Rate of $4 Per Week

ANONYMOUS BENEFACTOR

Red Tape Has Been Done Away With—Building is Modern and Eighty Can be Accomodated

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 6.—A back to clothe, a stomach to feed and a weary head to rest—all on seven dollars a week, became less of a problem today for eighty New York shop and factory girls.

An anonymous benefactor has established the Varick House, a new boarding house for girls, on new and unfettered lines, and it was opened this week at 11 Dominick street.

The house is a six-story building fireproof and new, and has rooms for eighty girls, a sleeping porch, and a parlor for taffy pulls, way up on the roof.

The price of room and board, including luncheon, is from $4 to $4.75 a week. There is a sewing room with electrical connections for sewing machines, where the economical girl may make her own dresses and other clothing. A laundry, with modern equipment, also has been installed.

One of the sponsors of the home found, in a New England village, a fine Colonial easy chair, and had duplicates made of it for every room in which there will be besides this chair, a chiffonier, bed desk, table and side chair.

Red tape has been done away with and any working girl can become a resident. Miss Margaret Shearer, a recent graduate of Bryn Mawr will be in charge of Varick house.

All this for four dollars a week brought a rush of applicants when the home was opened.

For a shine at all hours during the day go to the Norris and Flint barber shop. 28016

PROVIDES WAY TO REMOVE OFFICER

House Bill Would Make Violation of Penal Laws Grounds for a Writ of Ouster

NEGLECT OF DUTY EITHER

Attorney-General or County Prosecutor Would Have Power to Start Proceedings

Representative Burnitt, of Lawrence county, has introduced a bill providing for the removal of public officers of the state, county, city or township, excepting judges of the supreme and appellate courts and legislators, for violation of their trusts or as a result of conviction of a violation of any state or federal penal laws, for willful misconduct in office or neglect of the duties of the office.

The bill provides that upon conviction a writ of ouster shall be the judgment of the court of conviction and the defendant removed from office.

According to the provisions of the bill one person or a number of persons may petition the attorney-general of the state or the prosecutor of the county in which he lives, asking for an investigation. The bill provides that the county prosecutor or the attorney-general, if it be a state officer accused of misconduct in office, shall immediately make the demanded investigation, and if it is found that sufficient grounds exist for the beginning of prosecution, the prosecutor, or attorney-general, shall immediately begin an action seeking the writ of ouster against the accused official.

The prosecutor or attorney-general is to have the power to begin proceedings without the petition, but in such case checks are put upon the action of the county prosecutor.

If he begins action of his own volition he must submit the facts in the case to the attorney-general, who may then order him to cease the prosecution or may take the action into his own hands and conduct the case as he sees fit. The bill does not except judges of county courts or judicial circuits. In case action is brought against them it is provided that the attorney-general shall have the power to name the court in which the case is to be tried. If the action is being brought against the attorney-general of the state the bill provides that the prosecutor of Marion county, the largest in population in the state, shall become the prosecutor of the case. All cases against state officials are to be conducted by the attorney-general.

The bill provides that action for a writ of ouster against public officials shall take precedence over all other civil and criminal cases and shall be tried at the first term of court or after the defendant has received ten days' notice of the suit. Continuance may be granted to either side for cause, but no continuances are to be granted if both sides agree upon a continuance. This is inserted to avoid the possibility of an agreement as to a continuance—perhaps extending over the term of the officer charged in the suit—a possibility which might come about through political or other influences.

The bill gives the right of appeal to either side after the hearing. The appeal of a defendant, however, is not to operate as a stay of the judgment of the lower court, and the defendant must give bond in a sum to be named by the court. The notice of the filing of an appeal must be made within sixty days, the bill provides.

The bill provides that the court of hearing may suspend the accused officer from his position if, at a hearing to be held five days after the filing of the suit, sufficient evidence of his guilt be shown by the plaintiff. In case of suspension the bill provides that the authorities having appointive power over the position of the official may appoint another to succeed to the temporarily vacated position. It is provided in the bill that for disobedience of a subpoena for a witness in such cases the court may sentence a person to a term of not more than six months in jail and add a fine of not more than $500.

The provisions of the bill include an immunity clause for witnesses. It is provided that a witness may not be excused from testifying on the ground that he might incriminate himself, but does provide that any testimony which he may give at the hearing shall not be the basis for future action against the witness under the penal laws of the state. This practically offers entire immunity to the witness, regardless of his guilt. The author of the bill says this is done because of the difficulty now faced in convincing those "higher up" because employees and others refuse to testify against them.

The bill is now in the hands of a committee. A report on the bill is expected soon.

FARMING WILL BE TAUGHT TO VAGS

Scientific Way Will be Told to Tramps by Using Them on Farm of 2,000 Acres

IS DONE FOR AN EXPERIMENT

(By United Press.)
Cleveland, O., Feb. 5.—A plan to give the tramp "vags" a hand at scientific farming by putting the 2,000 acres of Warrensville Farm, Cleveland, great corrective institution, under scientific cultivation, is being worked out here today.

Not only the tramp who comes out of the police courts with an enforced vacation tagged on him but every prisoner would be given an opportunity to tend his little patch of onions, carrots, peas, corn or whatever the case might be.

The major portion of the farm will be cut up into plots of forty acres or so in order that experimentation can progress on a larger scale than is now customary on state experimentation farms. A complete and scientific record of the crop from "seed to stack" would be kept by experts.

The proposed project is being put into form on the assumption that Western reserve university and Case School of Applied Science here may some day be merged into a municipal university requiring a course in scientific agriculture.

RUSHVILLE INDIANA

COUP IS SPRUNG BY SUTHERLAND

Senator Asks That Shively of Indiana in Investigation That is Proposed by Senate.

RESOLUTION IS MADE BROAD

Complaint is Based on Terre Haute Convictions, Including Opinion by Judge Anderson.

Washington, Feb. 6.—At the meeting of the Senate committee on privileges and elections yesterday, held to consider the resolution for an investigation of the prenomination and election expenses of Senator Boise Penrose and the prenomination expenses of Roger Sullivan of Illinois, Senator Sutherland of Utah, acting under a prearranged plan, spring a coup by moving the adoption of an amendment so as to provide for an investigation of the election of Senators Shively of Indiana, Underwood of Alabama, Phelan of California and Johnson of South Dakota.

Sutherland, in support of his amendment, submitted to the committee a mass of material bearing on the Terre Haute election frauds, including the opinion of Judge Anderson overruling the demurrer of the defendants, who are under indictment.

The majority of the committee voted down the Sutherland amendment, but adopted another amendment which provides that the committee will extend the inquiry to "any other states in case evidence brought before the committee may justify it."

It is believed the Republicans of the Senate pretty generally will oppose the adoption of the resolution unless it is made a dragnet affair as proposed by the Sutherland amendment. This probably will mean a thorough airing of the Terre Haute case in the Senate.

Miller, according to complaint, was a native of South Africa and was ignorant of the English language, the laws and customs of this country. He was employed by the automobile company in March, 1913 and died May 4, 1914 from tuberculosis, alleged to have been brought on through the negligence of the company in failing to provide appliances to carry the dust from the sanding room.

The complaint states that Miller was twenty-six years old and was earning $1,000 a year and supporting a family when he died. The suit was filed June 5, 1914.
